Efficiency-driven project & people manager with extensive professional experience and a Full-Stack Web Development Certificate from Georgia Institute of Technology. Motivated self-starter & quick learner with a passion for creating clean, polished UI designs using HTML, CSS, & JavaScript, keeping user functionality in mind. Adept at approaching projects with multiple perspectives while balancing details with overall objectives. Exceptional communication & presentation skills, & success at building teams & curating brand presence as a field marketing manager as well as managing technical data as an environmental geology project manager. Looking to bring my problem-solving mind, infectious optimism, & project management skills to a dynamic team of web developers.
